

A Forwardian Photographer

John Hudanish

John served in the US Army from 1963 to 1969. He was originally on orders to go to West Germany, but then was sent to Southeast Asia. In the spring of 1966 he was given administrative duties at the flagpole in Saigon. But after a few months he was able to get out into the field. He took part in unit operations in the central Highlands and down into the Mekong Delta. Unable to take his camera out into the bush on operations, he managed to take a few hundred pictures on off-duty hours. He returned safely to the US in 1967.

We are honored to present his work titled, “Vietnamese Children.”

You’ll be able to read his work in Sections F of our magazine through our link at: www.theforwardianartssociety.com/Forwardian-3-Contents.html.