

A Forwardian Photographer

Narlene Jacobs

Narlene has been photographing for many years, starting out by shooting runway and fashion in New York. Now that she is retired, she still photographs people (particularly children at fairs and festivals), along with animals, birds, nature, landscape and especially waterfalls.

We are honored to present her work titled, “Sammy Sax.”

You’ll be able to read her work in Sections K of our magazine through our link at: www.theforwardianartsociety.com/Forwardian-3-Contents.html.
